The profiles of your Personality (By the Major Stars)

This analysis makes it possible to define how the stars group together to be able or not to best express their effects.

A single star, even if it expresses itself with its maximum power, is not as effective as if:

- it is in convergence with the majority of the stars of its group,
- she is accompanied by her appointed assistants.

The analysis also highlights the dominant profile which gives the intrinsic nature of the native vis-à-vis three major existential archetypes, namely, the Sage, the Warrior, the Civilian. The Civilian is a being mainly in reflection, the Warrior is mainly in action, the Sage (contrary to the falsely spread image) is equally in action and reflection. It is a being that integrates the qualities of the other two archetypes.

The cosmogonic vision of the ancient Chinese is based on a Ternary which is expressed as follows: Sky-Man-Sol or "Man inserted between Sky and Soil". Each of these levels corresponds to its own qualities which, related to man, define three standard profiles: The Royal, The Martial, The Civil.

People belonging to the Civil group have a personality diametrically opposed to those of the Martial group. With qualities of kindness, generosity, gentleness, humanity, dedication, they are far from this will and this search for combat and struggles.

Metaphysical Aspects of the group:

This group is the Directorial Power group, which corresponds to individuals with materialistic tendencies. This trend is characterized by a very particular interest in the transformation of matter, and it is the initiation of the Trade that will suit this type of personality. We can consider despite everything that these individuals remain in the domain of exotericism and only the most qualified among them will reach the first stage of initiation.

In the West, one can refer to the Compagnons du Devoir to locate the type of initiation that suits this type of individual. It is in the Perfection of the transformation of the material, that is to say by the realization of the work in conformity with the Universal Principles, that the first stage of the initiation can be effectively carried out.

Motor of Heaven, The Moon, Servant (Uranus), Honest are the stars which characterize the individuals of whom we have just spoken. It seems that the state of Tchenn-Jen (True Man) is accessible to them.

Characteristic portrait of the annual sign

RAT Metal Yang

The Metal Rat has much the same character traits as the Wood Rat. However, he has more confidence, less literary talent, and is more inclined toward hedonism.

- The Metal Rat's need for affection is great but rarely becomes an obsession. The native dutifully does all he can to earn the hearts of others. He has the confidence that people will respond positively to him. If sometimes his overtures are not rewarded, he has enough common sense and resignation to simply shrug and say, "That's life! "He doesn't make a big deal out of it and doesn't let it get him down, understanding that love and affection are not things that can be commanded, let alone demanded.

- The native may find success in trying to write columns, as he has a keen sense of observation and humor. On the contrary, his imagination and sensitivity are usually quite poor, which could prevent him from becoming a great novelist or poet.

- The bon vivant side of the sign is brought to a peak in the Metal Rat. This one, indeed, does not want to deprive himself of anything and actively seeks everything that flatters his sensuality. It is especially the good food that attracts him. One could not blame him as long as he remains within the reasonable limits of true epicureanism, knowing that the tendency to pleasure is inherent in our nature. Confucius himself said, "If you know how to love the good things of life, you will know how to love Virtue. "But when the pursuit of pleasure becomes an obsession, as in the case of Epicure's "swine", it soon becomes degrading and disgusting. "Satiety breeds disgust," said Montaigne. And Hippolyte Taine was of the same opinion: "He who tastes everything is disgusted with everything. "Moderation will therefore be advised to the Metal Rat. On the other hand, the native will have to repudiate as a deplorable aberration the virtue of mortification as it was advocated and practiced by the medieval Catholic Church.

- The Metal Rat is a very good lover (or a very good lover). He suffers virtually no inhibitions or taboos. When he makes love, he gives his all and takes his (or her) partner to seventh heaven. But, in the field of love as in that of gastronomy, he will have to guard against excesses.

- The sense of observation in the Metal Rat is singularly penetrating, so much so that the native seems to have the gift of divination. He perceives dangers where no one else suspects them; he sees possibilities with a precision worthy of professional psychics. One would be well advised to take his predictions seriously. He himself, however, does not trust his own judgment and constantly refers to that of others. Here we see the need for security common to the Rat family. The Metal Rat would gladly be a disciple of Pyrrhon and Montaigne, but his skepticism has nothing philosophical about it and results only from his fear of failure. In business, however, he is as sure of himself as the Duke of Wellington was on the eve of the battle of Waterloo.

Analysis of the energy terrain

According to the work of Dr Alain Bréant Votre santé par l'Horoscope Chinois EDIRU editions

For the study of the energetic terrain, we distinguish 3 energetic influences (Year, month, hour) and an energetic influence linked to the element of the year.

The influence of the year makes it possible to define how the native behaves towards others.

The energetic influence of the month makes it possible to characterize the behavior of the native in a group.

Finally, the energetic influence of the hour characterizes the behavior of the native towards -lives on its own.

Thème Médical

Cosmic Quality: Incoherent :

: 'The cosmic quality is defined by the relationship between the parity (Yin/Yang) of the year of birth and that of the person (Man=Yang, Woman=Yin).

The NEI KING SO OUENN gives some the following definition: "Yin and Yang are the TAO of Heaven and Earth. They are the origin of all beings, the father and mother of appearance and disappearance, the beginning and end of production and destruction, the treasure in which is enclosed the 'unpredictable mutation of Yin and Yang.

- Yang energy accumulates above and forms Heaven, Yin energy accumulates below and forms the Earth.

- Yin is rest; the Yang the activity.

- Yang begets, Yin believes.

- Yang destroys, Yin preserves.

- Yang produces energy, Yin forms ".

A year therefore presents a Yin or Yang parity. A Yin year transmits to these natives smaller exteriorization capacities and greater interiorization capacities than for the natives of a Yang year. These capacities are therefore confronted with the natural parity of the native's sex and therefore with the natural capacities of exteriorization and interiorization of women and men.

This is what defines the "Cosmic Quality" of a native.

Your Gender/Year parity ratio is heterogeneous (Female-Yang). There is energy discordance with the energy of your year of birth, which can, in certain situations, be a factor of imbalance. Your feminine nature is balanced by a behavior of a Yang nature. This gives you authority and command ability. Your relational affinities will bring you closer to men more easily. However, if your living conditions do not allow you to express this Yang nature, you risk suffering from it and somatizing it.

Energy quality of the year of birth:

CHAO YANG (Yin pole)

Native's relationship with others.

The energetic movement CHAO YANG allows the exteriorization, that is to say the realization of the necessary movement. For the Chinese, it is the "Fire-minister"; it gives the behavior of the fighter. The Yin pole generally provides a great need for movement and activities, hence a certain ease in adapting to the world of travel. This type of energy influences the individual in such a way that the lack of action, the static side of life, is particularly badly experienced. In fact, everything happens as if the need to act and move was accompanied by the perception of a need for "nutritive" reserves to allow this realization of the movement. Anxiety appears when the lack of reserves is highlighted, because it is this absence of reserves which, in the second degree, will limit the movement.

Psychologically, there is a good functioning of the striated musculature, that which concerns the muscles of the limbs and the trunk.

Year of birth deficiency:

CHAO YIN (pôle Yang)

a) Psychological disturbance:

Difficulty in ideational abstraction, sensitive to summer heat, need for material concerns, sexuality dominated by expectation.

b) Pathological risks:

Venous circulation disorders (especially for women: heavy legs, spider veins, varicose veins), chest pain, angina pectoris, arterial hypertension, cerebral circulation disorders, localized pseudo-inflammatory congestive phenomena.

Birth month energy quality:

CHAO YANG (Yin pole)

Relationship of the native in a group.

The energetic movement CHAO YANG allows the exteriorization, that is to say the realization of the necessary movement. For the Chinese, it is the "Fire-minister"; it gives the behavior of the fighter. The Yin pole generally provides a great need for movement and activities, hence a certain ease in adapting to the world of travel. b) Pathological risks:

Venous circulation disorders (especially for women: heavy legs, spider veins, varicose veins), chest pain, angina pectoris, arterial hypertension, cerebral circulation disorders, localized pseudo-inflammatory congestive phenomena.

Energy quality at time of birth:

TAE YANG (Yang pole)

The native's relationship to himself.

We find, with a different modality, certain traits of the Yin pole.

With resilience comes greater mobility.

This gives subjects who are dependent on it a great ability to adapt to hard and arduous work. The resistance to cold is excellent and the absorption of shocks and various traumas does not pose many problems. This form of energy contains important potentialities but it needs other energy forms to develop and exteriorize. This can explain a certain dependence on others with great difficulty in directing action.

The energy movement TAE YANG realizes the concentration of all things in the germ of the future life. He gives the will, the strength that allows us to persevere. The Yin pole promotes the memorization of thought, mainly in the early years.

Subjects who benefit from this influence are generally endowed with an astonishing memory, which they can lose with age in the event of cerebral circulatory disorders. There is also an extraordinary will, which in some situations can border on stubbornness.

Medically, this type of energy promotes bone function.

If the subject who benefits from this energy is suffering from rheumatic affections, the causes will be to be sought more in his living conditions, disastrous for his health, than in an intrinsic attack.

It was given to me to verify the importance of this type of energy influence in the capacities of resistance to attacks of the disease. The Tae Yang energy, in general, and the Yin pole, in particular, is found in the energy chart of many patients with been treated and having survived cancer for more than 10 years. This is, of course, a personal experience on a limited number of cases, and it would surely be necessary to support this impression with statistical data

Birth time deficiency:

TSUE YIN (pôle Yin)

a) Psychological disturbance:

Easily anxious, prone to stage fright, relative insensitivity to irrational knowledge, difficulty preparing for action, sensitive to exposure to cold wind.

b) Pathological risks:

Liver pain, genital spasms (pre-menstrual syndrome), pain in the lower limbs, visual disturbances, sudden drops in blood pressure with the possibility of discomfort.

Energy quality of the element of the year of birth:

Yang Metal element

Ici, on retrouve une certaine facilité à ressentir la tristesse, mais elle n'est plus résignée. Elle serait surtout dans le versant revendicatif. En effet, le côté Yang de cet élément procure généralement une certaine combativité. Le besoin de se sentir "maître chez soi" a tendance à donner un certain côté "totalitaire".

La période de l'année la plus faste va du 15 août au 21 septembre (équinoxe d'automne). Médicalement, cet élément favorise le fonctionnement du gros intestin.

Le tissu anatomique en relation avec le Métal Yang est la peau et les cheveux.

Le sens qui apparaît favorisé est l'odorat, alors qu'il existe une attirance pour le goût piquant. Ces deux qualités orientent vers un "bon" comportement à la table des gourmets._EN

Weak Energy:

TAE YIN (pôle Yang)

a) Psychological disturbance:

Lack of self-confidence, tendency to be disorderly, difficulty integrating into social groups without involving a balance of power, sensitive to external "worries", sensitive to humidity.

b) pathological risks:

Infections of the nose, ears and throat (especially in early childhood), bronchitis.

Weak Energy:

YANG MING (pôle Yang)

Weakness partially compensated by element of the year

a) Psychological disturbance:

Lack of decision, hesitation, easily influenced, sensitive to dryness.

b) Pathological risks:

Intestinal disorders, aerocoly, pain in the upper limbs, elbow tendinitis, peri-arthritis of the shoulder, cysts, subcutaneous lipomas, nasal and tube catarrh in children with ear complications.

Weak Energy:

YANG MING (pôle Yin)

Weakness partially compensated by element of the year

a) Psychological disturbance:

Bulimic in case of stress, possible lack of moral rigor, difficulty getting started in the morning.

b) Pathological risks:

Gastric disorders, yawning, nausea, pain in the lower limbs, breast cysts for women, prostate adenoma in men, white vaginal discharge.

Weak Energy:

TAE YIN (pôle Yin)

a) psychological disturbance:

Relative carelessness with regard to others, even in the close family environment, sensitive to damp cold, tendency to gain weight.

b) Pathological risks:

Gastroenteritis, episodes of diarrhea, localized edema, infectious or inflammatory pancreatitis, obesity, blood crisis disorders.

Weak Energy:

TAE YANG (pôle Yin)

Faiblesse compensée partiellement par l'énergie horaire de l'autre pôle

a) Psychological disturbance:

Prone to depression with adynamia, early memory loss, difficulty in recovery.

b) Pathological risks:

Spinal pain, headaches, urinary disorders, not very resistant to trauma.

Weak Energy:

CHAO YIN (pôle Yin)

a) Psychological disturbance:

Depressive tendency, emotional instability, sensitive to suffocating atmospheres, premature ejaculation for men, frigidity for women.

b) pathological risks:

Ringing in the ears, cardiovascular disorders, tendency to retain urine, headaches, hot flushes at menopause.

Weak Energy:

TSUE YIN (pôle Yang)

a) Psychological disturbance:

Inhibition, vulnerable to stresses, predisposition for spasmophilia, little intuition, relative insensitivity to irrational knowledge, sensitive to drafts and gales.

b) Pathological risks:

Tachycardia, palpitations, spasmodic pain, false pain of angina pectoris, neurovegetative dystonia.

Weak Energy:

CHAO YANG (pôle Yang)

Weakness partially compensated by the annual energy of the other pole

Weakness partially compensated by the monthly energy of the other pole

a) Psychological disturbance:

Lack of drive, loss of motivation, tendency to withdraw into oneself, sensitive to stormy weather, prone to out of place violent anger.

b) Pathological risks:

Vagal discomfort (slow heart rate, sweating, headaches, nausea, sometimes syncope) arterial hypertension, hiccups, motor diarrhea.

Aspects of the ancestors and their tomb

Giant Door represents an uncle, probably the elder brother of the father if the latter is deceased, otherwise a paternal great-uncle or great-great-uncle.

The grave of this ancestor is probably in a square piece of land, with clay and yellowish soil, high up and close to a historic monument or a castle.

Servant (Uranus) represents one of the ancestors of four generations.

The grave of this ancestor is probably in a hollow on low, damp ground.

Compare the 2 star element with your birth element (Earth) to know the ancestor or ancestors in relation to the native.

With Foetus the tomb is crossed by a small underground spring.

With Heavenly Longevity the ground is low and wet. A small spring meanders around the tomb.

: 'With Armor the land is shaped like a sharp blade or tooth.

With Punishment the land has the shaped like a knife. There are shards of glass and broken porcelain.

With Mars the land is shaped like a spear with the land hot and red.

Aspects of Individuality Sector

Meanings given by the primary stars:

Giant Door, Servant (Uranus) :

This configuration is favorable for the success of the native, but luck smiles on him particularly in terms of possessions. On the other hand, sentimental and family life is not very encouraging. The family is disunited and conflicted, the kindred members are decadent. Bar/Cut

When the Individuality palace is barred with major stars:

you. It is better to leave the place of birth to live far from the city of birth. It is also desirable that relatives do the same, especially people with the title elder.

The bars reduce the good and bad influences of the stars present in this palace.

Without major stars:

See the description of the sector.

Armor

Armor is one of the 6 acts of violence, which tears the palate to pieces

Individuality and consequently luck.

Brilliant: Luck and bad luck are inseparable giving the native's life many ups and downs. A quieter life is still permitted in old age. The family returns to its sources in old age.

NATIVE MAJOR TRIGONE

Jupiter - White Tiger - Competent authorities

Health - Personality - Work

This trigone is the native's decisive trigone. The study of the stars accompanying Jupiter will make it possible to determine the direction of the evolution of destiny (ascension/fall).

The description of the star Jupiter is given below.

The decade of the study date is superimposed on the decisive trine. It will also be decisive (see the stars accompanying Jupiter to determine the direction of evolution of destiny).

Jupiter

Jupiter symbolizes the largest planet in the solar system (which therefore has significant astral repercussions), and has many satellites, the list of which is as follows: Small Sun or Young Yang, Small Moon or Young Yin, Void of Heaven, Door of Mourning (Pluto), Death, White Tiger, Competent authorities, Opponent, Virtue of the Dragon, Virtue of the Ancestors, Sad Guest, Praying/Sign of Sincerity.

The influences of Jupiter can lead the native to the firmament of fame, but also at the bottom of the dungeon. The stars that accompany Jupiter will decide. Jupiter, Competent authorities and White Tiger always form a trine which is the most beneficial in Chinese astrology both in terms of ascension and social success than satisfaction in achieving one's goals.

This trine in destiny is the happiest omen there is. For the other natives, it is the decade which will highlight this one which will be the most dazzling. If Phoenix (immortal bird), Flying Dragon and Parasol come with the previous trine, then the native will fulfill all these desires.

On the other hand, pay attention to the association with Armor, Dark Cloud and Punishment. It is the stars that carry the native towards dark destinies (ruin, problem with justice, conflicts).

In the decade Jupiter is very favorable. In the annual period Jupiter if it is not connected to beneficial stars, announces difficulties in relation to justice.

ASPECTS OF DESTINY

Aspects of destiny are valid at all times.

The Palace is Barred

The Bar of Void effect is expressed at 70% in the palace 'Personality Sector'

Description of the sector

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

This sector describes the metaphysical plane of the individual. It is the will of the parcel of the Universal Being which moves the individual and which the traditions call Personality.

This sector is part of the central structure of the being which can be seen as a quaternary, or even as a Manifested Ternary added to its principle which gives it its two fundamental movements; Intellectual (association of ideas) and Corporeal (physical life). This ternary is the following: Association of ideas-Soul-Body.

Brought back to the very contingent domain of ordinary life, this ternary becomes: Parents-Chance (Ancestors)-Possession. It may surprise that there is such a difference in statement, but the analogical reasoning makes that the microcosm is in the image of the macrocosm and we can even go further by saying that the microcosm is in the image of metaphysical principles. Thus, we can say that the parents are the image of the native's intellectuality, that the Ancestors (at least the one in relation to the individual) are the image of the characterological manifestation of the native, finally the Possession palace which should no doubt seeing as the material environment of the native, rather than what he actually possesses, is the picture of the physical life of the individual.

This way of seeing the birth chart is extremely powerful, because now the palaces of the central structure can be seen as the Principle of each of the 4 planes considered Principle-Intellectuality-Individuality-Body, and those at the trines are the emitting manifestations and receivers. Thus the palace Personality is declined in a Principle of Generating (the image of the Active Perfection, which is also what nourishes the individual) which is called Finance in its exoteric statement, and in a Transforming Principle (the image of Passive Perfection, which is also the action of the individual) which is called i>Work. We see there, the beauty and the perfection of the traditional Spirit applied on an Astral chart which makes it possible to consider an entirely metaphysical reading. The reasoning then applies in the same way to the planes of Intellectuality, individuality (which is the sentimental dimension of the native) and the Body.

Exoteric Meanings of the sector: Without major stars:

When the personality palace does not receive any major star and if the cases mentioned below are not verified, then the person lives with a feeling of dissatisfaction, dissatisfaction, frustrations. When one area of existence is satisfactory, it is the others that deteriorate. For example, when the work is successful, the health deteriorates, when the couple gets along well, they have no children, etc.

The life of the person with such an astral configuration, is in generally difficult, with a high probability of infirmities and disabilities, or even death, making life miserable.

A person with a Personality palace without a major star, usually has a low life expectancy. It does not exceed 60 years, except when the palace of the ancestors contains the opposite indications or when other elements of the birth chart come to oppose this unfavorable configuration.

The image of a palace Personality without a major star, and that of a house whose interior light is lacking, due to windows that are too narrow to let filter the day.

List of Favorable Configurations

- . A bright, unbarred nefarious star with the same element as the year of birth (or the element preceding that of the year of birth with respect to the generating cycle) of the person studied in the Personality palace (White Tiger in the Monkey palace for a person born in a Metal or Earth year is favorable).
- . Dark Cloud with Bar/Cut or Bar/Void in the palace Personality in the Goat square, in trine with The Moon in Boar and Sun in Chat is favorable.
- . A void in each trine palace that passes through the Personality palace that does not contain lucky stars is favorable for those born a Fire year.
- . A nullity in each trine palace that passes through the Personality palace which contains good stars and bright bad stars, is the indicator of 'an ordinary life without big events.
- . The palace Strikeout personality with Earth Spell and Earth Nullity in the trine is favorable. The beginning of existence is eventful with some difficulties, but when mature (30 years), the social situation becomes satisfactory.
- . An unfavorable bright and barless star with good celestial bodies at the trine is a sign of an excellent situation. If the palace Personality receives Bar/Cut or Bar/Void then life becomes ordinary and quiet.

. A nefarious star in the palace Personality whose element is opposite to that of the year of birth of the person studied, with 2 nullities at the trine, means that an early death is probable during childhood.

. Harmful stars in the palace Personality whose elements are opposite to that of the year of birth of the person studied, with bad stars in the trine, means that premature death is probable unless the palace Personality receives Bar/Cut.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

Here is the Star which symbolizes par excellence the third initiatory Way, the one related to the last term of the ternary Wisdom-Force-Beauty which is a variation of the ternary of the Far Eastern tradition Sky-Man-Sol. By his action in conformity with the Universal Work, the individual in relation with Motor of Heaven, by the transformation of matter (by the realization of a work of art) can reach the perfection of Beauty, and by the same reach the state of True Man or Tchenn Jen, the first stage of the journey of the Way (Tao). It goes without saying that it is by the opening of one's consciousness, that is to say by the effective initiatic realization, that this realization of Beauty can be obtained.

We recall that it is only by an act taking on a Ritual dimension and by receiving the Spiritual Influences of its tradition by its Master, and of course by following a true traditional teaching (which has no nothing to do with the profane teaching of the modern world), that the Perfection of Beauty can be attained.

In other cases Motor of Heaven extinguished is in the Palace Personality of simple and ordinary people, leading a pleasant and mundane existence that flows like a quiet little river.

Birth (Longevity)

Birth (Longevity) is one of the 12 stars punctuating the cycle of a living being. This conception of the cyclicity of any entity manifested through the "Stream of Forms" is very important in all traditions, and even if the expression sometimes differs, the principle is always the same. A particle of the Universal Being, manifesting in the Stream of Forms through a subtle compound, unites with a gross compound, thanks to a third intermediate compound which holds them together. This third compound, moved by the initial breath, is called by the Far Eastern tradition Ch'i and is known in the West as Soul. This soul or this Tch'i is a double modality, which has the particularity of being indissoluble like the subtle and immortal compounds of the individual, and of being mortal like coarse compounds. The double modality of Ch'i, at the moment of death, detaches itself from the two compounds that it held together. The Ch'i which is the manifestation of the will of the parcel of the Universal Being, being mortal but indissoluble, after being dissociated from the compounds of the individual, regains possession of new compounds by immediate resurrection.

We immediately add, which we have developed in a book in support of Taoist texts, that this process has nothing to do with reincarnation, which is a completely French invention of the 18th century foreign to traditional metaphysical thought..

When the Ch'i detaches itself from the different compounds, remaining on the side of the immortals, it is the definitive disappearance of this cohesion which was precisely the individuality which has just died. Remembrance, ordinary consciousness, are modalities determined and limited in space and time, which can only manifest themselves through the cohesion of Spirit, Soul and Body. Death leading to the definitive and irremediable end of this assembly, no conscience, no memory can remain.

A life cycle is therefore stated as follows:

Initial Breath (Disappearance) is the star marking the end of the previous life cycle but also the beginning of the new cycle of the manifested state of the Being through the Current of Forms. Then come the following milestones: Foetus, Food, Birth (Longevity), Purification (Puberty), Maturity (Hat and Belt), Starting Office (Mandarinate), Reign (Prosperity), Decline (Decadence), Disease, Death, Burial (Funeral).

Birth (Longevity) symbolizes several aspects: as its name suggests "Longevity", a long duration, extension. But also the birth, the eldest son or daughter. Placed in the palace Personality Birth (Longevity) is synonymous with a long life.

Lunar Virtue

the 4 virtues, (Virtue of the Dragon, Lunar Virtue, Virtue of the Ancestors, Heavenly Virtue), bring happiness and protection against misfortune. As their name suggests, they are a sign of virtue, but also of happiness and protection. They confer on the person under their influence a character full of perseverance and courage, as well as qualities of spirituality and devotion to God. The natives are respectful of religious practices and rites, and like to be on the path of spiritual evolution and the mutation of their being.

the 4 virtues have the effect of tempering the effects stars playing on sexual attraction, and allow natives to achieve a harmonious balance between physical love and spiritual love.

During periods, the 4 virtues provide relief from life's trials, and bring luck to the fore in the final act.

Earth Deliverance

The 3 Deliverances are very similar stars to the 4 Virtues. They deliver misfortunes, physical and psychological sufferings and accentuate longevity.

Earth Deliverance deliver the person at the very moment when he is undergoing a misfortune. For example, you work in one of the infamous twin towers. You evacuate your workstation, but the tower collapses. You are buried under the rubble, but at the same time a firefighter who should not have been there hears you and saves you. It's Earth Deliverance.

Heavenly Talents

Heavenly Talents decreases both good and bad influences from the stars in his palace.

It symbolizes talent, gifts, abilities.

Eight Siege

Eight Siege and Three Steps symbolize the nobility, the bourgeoisie, the elegance and also the solemn aspect of the person. But this serious character does not prevent the person from loving leisure and tranquility.

Eight Siege like Three Steps is one of the privileged and most influential assistants of the stars of the Royal group. Eight Siege represents the post from which royal orders and decrees originate. As for Three Steps, he represents the three highest positions in the royal hierarchy.

If Three Steps and Eight Siege are placed on either side of the palace Personality of the native, himself occupied by powerful and brilliant stars, this one reaches very early governmental functions very high.

During the periods Three Steps but also Eight Siege are favorable indicators for the purchase, sale and transactions in real estate (house, land), car and household appliances. This is the favorable period to undertake the renovation or construction of the dwelling or even for the move.

Beloved

Benefactor, like Beloved, is a star of protection, which gives the person receiving it in their palace Personality, humanity, faith, respect for others, kindness. She abhors lies and dishonesty, and does not maintain contact with dubious people. Customs are also very important. For example, the native does not conceive of marriage if there has not previously been an engagement.

In periods, Benefactor is a sign of luck and success on a professional level, especially when placed in the Ox or Goat palace.

Horse

Horse is the star of strength which overthrows all obstacles and gives flamboyance to the stars with which it is associated. It is the most precious star (precious as a diamond) in Chinese astrology, the very example of everything in the universe. Depending on the palace he borrows, his influences favor or not the native. The table below explains the different scenarios:

Without Bar/Void

Caption: +++ = Makes prosper; ++ = Favors; + = Somewhat Favorable; - = Unfavorable; -- = Very unfavorable

Palace +++ ++ + - --

Tiger Fire Wood Water Earth Metal
Snake Earth Fire Wood Metal Water
Monkey Water Metal Earth Wood Fire
Boar Wood Water Metal Fire Earth

With Bar/Void

Palace +++ ++ + - --

Tiger Earth Fire Wood Metal Water
Snake Water Metal Earth Wood Fire
Monkey Wood Water Metal Fire Earth

Boar Fire Wood Water Earth Metal

When the Personality palace receives Horse, the person is animated by an inexhaustible energy coupled with unfailing courage. This tone has the ability to be transmitted to people around him.

If Hidden Treasure or Fortune come with it and the table above shows the case Prosperous or Favorable then the money is flowing. If the table brings out the case A little favorable then the money goes in a little.

If Horse is in conjunction or in opposition to Hidden Treasure, luck and prosperity in terms of finances, work, social position, are extremely favored. It seems to be people working in commerce who are favoured.

During the periods, Horse is a sign of changes (work, home, etc..) or at least makes them favorable. It is also a good omen for starting new relationships or new encounters.

Crusher

Crusher has the same meanings as Earth Spell but with less force of expression. This star is sometimes called "Second Earth Spell".

Recall of Earth Spell.

Earth Spell in the palace Personality is the sign of a certain selfishness.

In Chinese astrology and symbolism Earth Spell and Earth Nullity have a very strong meaning. These stars represent the consequences in return of past acts that have been carried out by the individual himself or his antecedents.

When the period is superimposed on the palace containing at least one of these stars, difficulties will arise. Failure in exams, particularly painful heartache, financial bankruptcy, over-indebtedness, loss of home, absolute misery, worsening health, political failure, dismissal, exile, banishment, execution, overthrow of the regime, etc.

The examples in Chinese history are numerous, where sovereigns or powerful among the powerful who when only one of these stars arrives in their decade, lose all that they had built, built, amassed, and lose their life or sink into total misery.

The power of these stars can be terrifying, and there is not much to do, especially when the person reaches their 40s or 50s. Even King of the Stars (Jupiter) or Heavenly Palace fails to protect the subject. Only Demolisher (Neptune) their master transforms their influences into beneficial and useful effects.

With Earth Spell and Earth Nullity together in the palace Personality are significant of an unstable life, and sometimes of a wandering life.

When Earth Spell and Earth Nullity are together in the Tiger, Snake, Monkey and Boar palaces symbolizes the following image: "Broken wings in the sky". Take away the meaning of a vertiginous fall to the ground, an untimely death or a booming being broke.

If Earth Spell and Earth Nullity are together in the Snake or the Boar , the person's financial and social success is just a flash in the pan. The puffed up soufflé bursts and falls. It can be a poor person who earns a considerable sum of money which he squanders on gambling and alcohol. If Earth Spell and Earth Nullity are crossed out and the person in his palace b> Personality in one of the palaces whose element is Earth, the negative effects of these two stars are less felt.

Suffocation

Suffocation symbolizes anguish, which when associated with the 6 forms of violence (Lance, Armor, Mars, Thunder, Earth Spell, Earth Nullity), and/or nothingness (Void of Heaven, Earth Nullity, Bar/Cut, Praying/Sign of Sincerity) makes the atmosphere unbreathable. The native has a tight throat. Indeed Suffocation governs the throat, but also the thorax.

The influences of Suffocation are suffocation, impediment, delay, impatience, abandonment, demolition, destruction.

Recumbent

The trine Small Sun or Young Yang, Recumbent and Heavenly Virtue is placed in the palaces following the trine Jupiter, Competent authorities, White Tiger. This triangulation animates the natives under its influence, with a religious spirit and very lucid on the functioning of the world, which most of the time leaves them in a meditative and reclusive attitude (recumbent), because they are detached from the affairs of the world, from politics and struggles for power, but which can sometimes impel them to extreme reactionary commitments that should not be underestimated.

So, this instinctive power that brings them out of their retirement is the one that animates the extremists or religious fundamentalists, who under the cover of their belief can set the world on fire.

During the periods, it is the spiritual life, meditation, to which one must turn, otherwise the reverse of fortune awaits, and in particular for people who only listen to their instincts and undertake militant actions.

Recumbent is a symbol of sadness, small troubles, mourning, annoyances and obstacles.

Thunder

A person who receives Thunder or Mars Brilliant in the Personality palace, alone or united with beneficial stars, is a dynamic, courageous, quick and efficient person, with excellent reflexes. Its situation, although turbulent, is good (comfortable wealth, and good social status). Lance, Armor, Earth Spell, Earth Nullity and/or at Dark Cloud and Punishment, his influence becomes harmful.

If the person receives Thunder or Mars extinguished in the palace Personality (especially those born in a Dog, Boar and even more Rat year), accompanied by the stars mentioned above, give him a cruel, violent, unpredictable personality, sometimes his mental balance is deficient. The person often enters a kind of vicious circle, because their aggressive character leads them into solitude which has disastrous effects on this first one.

Only stars of deliverance can attenuate (King of the Stars (Jupiter) very bright * * or sparkling  protects from Thunder and Mars, as for Heavenly Palace very shiny  or sparkling  * protect from Thunder, Mars, Lance and Armor).

With Mars and Thunder together in the palace Personality are significant d an unstable life, and sometimes a wandering life.

Small Erosion

The erosions (Small Erosion and Great Erosion which are always placed in opposition) symbolize the waterways of the earth which flow into the oceans at the four cardinal points, but also and above all the movement of water which erodes the earth. Erosions are bright in the East and West.

When star Small Erosion is bright and accompanied by favorable stars in the Personality palace, the person is born under the double center of interest Study, Pleasure. She craves the greatest knowledge, but also the greatest entertainment and pleasure.

This double attraction results in a certain intelligence, but also in an impatient and indecisive character. The idea of flow mentioned above is found in the desire to leave one's family, in the need to travel, to change country, spouse, place, etc. A native born under erosions is an inconstant .

The erosions are the most beneficial, when they occupy the palaces of the Tiger or the Monkey, but also if one of them is accompanied by Motor of Heaven and Giant Door in the Personality or Work palace. In these cases, the person is talented and normally knows fortune.

Placed differently, erosions are a sign of squandering (of time and energy in amusements, of money in reckless spending). This inclination can be disastrous, and lead to misery (especially if the passion for the game gets involved), if other stars do not come to oppose it.

In terms of health, a person born with Small Erosion or Great Erosion is predisposed to have a fragile digestive system.

During the periods, badly placed or badly accompanied erosions augur the negative aspects of flows (separations, ruptures, abandonments, unforeseen and/or abnormal expenses, losses, thefts, etc.
Well-aspected erosions promote health, work, financial situation, studies, change of residence and work.

Door of Mourning (Pluto)

Door of Mourning (Pluto) is always at the trine of Opponent and Sad Guest.
A person under the influence of Door of Mourning (Pluto) strongly disagrees with what is happening in the world. Society, political power, work, family. She is satisfied with nothing, opposes everything, protests, disputes, criticizes, polemics. She is ready to use all the means of communication, to throw her reproach on the world so badly made. But he lacks the strength and ability to change him. So she proclaims her resignation in the media, rising up as a sad guest against the established power. Others act, model, shape and change the world, but she mourns all the actions she has failed to take, sinking into an increasingly bitter resentment. She slips, little by little, into the skin of the pretentious and boastful resistant who is sure of his rights, pouring out acerbic remarks which increasingly become insulting.

In the periods Door of Mourning (Pluto) announces sadness and annoyances, worries, dental problems and the death of loved ones. You have to watch your health.

ASPECTS OF PARENTS SECTOR

The Palace is Barred

The effect of the Cutting Bar is expressed at 20% in the palace 'Parents Sector'

Description of the sector

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

This plane is the one that characterizes the Intellectual faculties of the individual, which will be declined on the trine in transmitting functions of the Palace Offspring and in receiving functions of the Palace Entourage. This is totally in line with the principles of reading that we have set out for the Personality Palace, since we have said that the Parents are the image of the native's intellectuality, in the same way the transmitting intellectual function will be the image of the intellectuality of the native's children. As for the entourage of the native, this is what he will receive on the intellectual level in the exercise of his transforming activity (work and other productive activity not necessarily remunerated).

Exoteric Meanings of Sector:

This sector represents the direct relatives of the person (father and mother) or the parents-in-law (mother-in-law, father-in-law). It highlights the aspects that play on the relationship of the person studied with them and how this relationship influences the destiny of the subject.

The sector gives indications on the physical, psychological, characterological aspect of these . It also gives information on their profession, on their chance of happiness or misfortune, on the possibilities of mutual agreement or disagreement (relationship of the parents between them).

Without major stars: Take major stars from the palace Health

If the Palace is Locked:

When Bar/Cut or Bar/Void is present in the Palace of Parents, there is a high chance that the parents are separated due to divorce or death of one of them, or it is the meaning of a disagreement between them. Otherwise, the bars indicate that the person, during their youth, moved away or was raised by cousins. She then left the parental home.

With the bars the influences of the stars are reversed.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

King of the Stars (Jupiter). Here is the emblematic Star of the Temporal Power, one of the two qualities that the true Sage (which the Far Eastern tradition calls 'Transcendent Man', or Cheu-Jenn) must combine, the other of which is that of the Spiritual Authority, which is symbolized by Heavenly Palace. The King or Wang in Chinese, is the mediator between the Sky and the Ground, uniting by his mere presence the three planes of the Ternary Sky-Man-Sol and thus constituting the hub of the Cosmic Wheel, around which the Empire can find its center, therefore its harmony and its balance. King of the Stars (Jupiter) is therefore the symbol of the individual called to embody Celestial Justice and to exercise Temporal Power in manifestation. It is for this reason that it fell to him, when China was still an entirely traditional people, to promulgate the calendar, symbol of the cycles, of passing time, of the Cosmic Wheel, of the Manifested World. We understand in this way that King of the Stars (Jupiter) which is the star which relates, for the Sacerdotal (or royal) group, to the domain of manifestation is the most beneficial for all that relates to the material. King of the Stars (Jupiter) is also associated with the planet Jupiter, which is the star that marks the succession of annual energetic qualities of the duodenal cycle. This again highlights the Temporal nature of this Star and thus joins what we were saying previously.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

This star is the most beneficial of Chinese astrology. It is synonymous with luck, fortune, authority, prestige, protection and deliverance.

When King of the Stars (Jupiter) enters periods, it brings luck, success in actions undertaken, recognition, prosperity and health. If the person had difficulties, these find their solution: release in case of imprisonment, healing, end of stubbornness.

Aspects of Parents Sector

Meanings given by the primary stars:

King of the Stars (Jupiter) :

Well-off and honorable parents are in good health and live relatively old. They get on well and live in harmony with their children. Bar/Cut

The bar in the Parents palace can have several meanings:

1- The parents are divorced, separated or no longer get along.

2 - One of the parents died.

3- The native left home at a very young age to live in other places or take refuge with cousins.

Moreover, the bar reverses the influences of the stars.

Earth Spell

Family doesn't get along. Parents are probably poor and will certainly experience professional failure.

Laureate

The native's father is probably the eldest or only son. The parents' professional situation is good and they are probably known.

ASPECTS OF INDIVIDUALITY SECTOR

The Palace is Barred

The effect of the Cutting Bar is expressed at 80% in the palace 'Individuality Sector'

Description of the sector

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

This plane is what characterizes the human dimension of the manifested being envisaged, which is none other than sentimentality. This sentimentality will be broken down into transmitting functions defined through the Love palace and into receiving functions defined through the Social Life palace. The Love palace is what the individual is capable of producing as a romantic relationship, while the Social Life palace is what the individual will receive from his sentimental relationships in the exercise of these transformative activities. This plane is also the one that perfectly defines the native in manifestation, and it is for this reason that this palace is sometimes seen as that of Destiny.

Exoteric Meanings of Sector:

This sector provides information on the grandparents of the person studied, but also on the ancestors of previous generations. In the Eastern tradition, it is said that actions, good or bad, have repercussions on the subject. These repercussions are positive or negative on the efforts of the person depending on the nature of the actions of the ancestor(s).

This in some way conditions the subject's luck and happiness in life. This sector is also the one that determines the longevity of the person, because happiness conditions longevity.

Void:

Interpret using the stars of the palace Finances.

Without major stars:

The palace Individuality without major stars and which does not enter into the cases of figure listed below, is significant of lack of luck and low longevity for the person.

List of favorable configurations

Resume the scenarios listed for the palace Personality, and interpret favorable situations as a sign of luck and good longevity. We give below some examples:

- . The Individuality palace without major stars, with Sun and The Moon shining and placed at the trine and/or in opposition is a sign of remarkable luck and good longevity. Parents and relatives have an honorable position for the most part, some ancestors were important personalities.
- . The palace Individuality receiving one of the four nullities (Void of Heaven, Earth Nullity, Bar/Cut, Bar/Void) and especially with Void of Heaven, with the same configuration for Sun and The Moon as above, is even more favorable.
- . If the palace Individuality without major stars is in the box of the Tiger or the Monkey, with Armor not crossed out is as favorable as above, one or more of the ancestors (including parents) was or is an important military figure.
- . The palace Individuality landing one of the four nulls (Void of Heaven, Earth Nullity, Bar/Cut, Bar/Void), is a sign of luck and protection.

If the Palace is crossed out:

See the scenarios described above.

With major stars luck is not at the rendezvous. It is better to leave the place of birth to live far from the city of birth. It is also desirable that relatives do the same, especially people with the title elders.

The bars diminish the good and the bad influences of the stars present in this palace.

This sector is also the one that allows to describe the ancestor(s) with which (which) the native is related to.

The Individuality palace is one of the most important. It represents and characterizes the link of the native with his ancestors. It is through this link that the good or bad influences of the ancestors with whom he is related will be transmitted to him. We can know, thus, what will be the luck, the happiness and the longevity of the native.

In Chinese thought, it is considered that the energy flow of the deceased is transmitted to the native by his burial. It is for this reason that the Chinese attach great importance to the tombs of their ancestors.

If the Individuality palace has no main stars, the major stars of the palace must be considered in opposition, the Finances.

If the Individuality palace contains two major stars, the following rules must be applied:

- If the major stars are of the same element, then the tombs of the two ancestors are side by side and influence the native in the same way.
- If the major stars are not of the same element, then only one of the two ancestors will be related to the native . To know what this ancestor is, it is necessary to study the relationship (generation, opposition) between the element of the ancestor and that of the native. The order of priority is as follows: The element of the ancestor ( EA) generates that of the native (EN), EA = EN, EA is generated by EN.

With Bar/Void the following different scenarios can occur:

- Without major stars: the tomb is in a burning and deserted terrain which disperses the spiritual breath coming from afar.
- With good stars: The good influences of the ancestors dwindle as time goes by. Evil influences gain strength. The past generations have a better life than the descendants.
- With Bad Stars: Evil influences diminish as time passes. Positive influences take over. The descendants will experience a better life than the ancestors.
 - Placed in the opposite palace: The tomb is in a huge wasteland.

With Bar/Cut the different cases of The following figures may occur:

- Without major stars: A road or a bridge located near the tomb prevents the spiritual breath of the deceased from reaching the tomb.
- With good stars: The good influences of the ancestors are disturbed, because the earth is dug, cracked or landslides have occurred. The influences being diverted the descendants suffer more and more misfortune.
- With bad stars: The favorable influences develop more and more, although the grave has disappeared. Descendants will be favored more and more.
- Placed in the opposite palace: The tomb is near a crossing of a road or a bridge.

Aspects of the ancestors and their tomb

Giant Door represents an uncle, probably the elder brother of the father if the latter is deceased, otherwise a paternal great-uncle or great-great-uncle.

The grave of this ancestor is probably in a square piece of land, with clay and yellowish soil, high up and close to a historic monument or a castle.

Servant (Uranus) represents one of the ancestors of four generations.

The grave of this ancestor is probably in a hollow on low, damp ground.

Compare the 2 star element with your birth element (Earth) to know the ancestor or ancestors in relation to the native.

With Foetus the tomb is crossed by a small underground spring.

With Heavenly Longevity the ground is low and wet. A small spring meanders around the tomb.

: 'With Armor the land is shaped like a sharp blade or tooth.

With Punishment the land has the shaped like a knife. There are shards of glass and broken porcelain.

With Mars the land is shaped like a spear with the land hot and red.

Aspects of Individuality Sector

Meanings given by the primary stars:

Giant Door, Servant (Uranus) :

Armor

Armor is one of the 6 acts of violence, which tears the palate to pieces

Individuality and consequently luck.

Brilliant: Luck and bad luck are inseparable giving the native's life many ups and downs. A quieter life is still permitted in old age. The family returns to its sources in old age.

Off: indicates that the native will be tempted by a wandering and unstable life. Youth is punctuated by severe failures. The family certainly has members, crippled, disabled, injured, or dishonest.

Mars

Mars is one of the 6 acts of violence, which shatters the palate Individuality and consequently luck.

Brilliant: The Luck and bad luck are inseparable giving the native's life many ups and downs as if living under a storm. Family members who achieve success are mown down by death.

Off : Mars indicates that it is through effort and courage that the native will obtain a more favorable destiny in a life where difficulties only follow one another. The family sinks more and more into the decadence. Some members commit suicide or sink into violence or madness.

ASPECTS OF POSSESSIONS SECTOR

The Palace is not Barred

Description of the sector

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

This plan is the last of the central structure of the manifested being and it characterizes its physical dimension, that is to say the body, but more exactly what will be the material environment of the individual. This environment will be broken down into emitting functions defined through the Collaterals palate and receptor functions defined through the Health palate. The Collaterals palace perfectly symbolizes the first bodily confrontations of the native with his immediate environment in his confrontation with his brothers and sisters or his collaterals in a more principled way. The Health palace is what the individual will receive (undergo) bodily during the exercise of his transformative activity. This palace is the one that best defines the physique of the individual.

Exoteric Meanings of Sector:

This sector makes it possible to know what the person studied is supposed to have had, has or is likely to have as property (by direct acquisition or inheritance). This concerns real estate, values such as gold, works of art, car, boat, plane, racehorse, etc. This sector does not concern the money that is used in the daily life. This concerns the financial sector.

Without major stars:

Means that the person will not receive an inheritance and will not dispose of wealth. b . With Sun and The Moon shining, uncrossed out and placed trine and/or in opposition is a sign that the person will have large properties or very important houses. As age advances, prosperity increases.

. With Sun and The Moon brilliant, crossed out and placed trine and /or in opposition indicates that the youth of the person will be unstable. Then with age, the acquisitions are more and more important with beautiful properties and vast domains.

. Barred means that the domain of possessions does not is not favored. The person often changes residence. It is also, sometimes, the mark of a disinterest of the person vis-à-vis material things. However, old age is not disadvantaged.

If the Palace is Barred:

Bar/Cut or Bar/Void attenuates negative influences, but also positive of the stars present in the palace Possession.

With Bar/Cut and Bar/Void together, indicate that the person will not inherit or will refuse it (because of their insignificance, or by refusal) and will not have any assets. The aspect of possessions for the native is very unstable. He changes his residence very often. Old age is relatively protected.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

Demolisher (Neptune) symbolizes catabolic energy, energy necessary for cosmic balance and must be seen as a purifying force. Here we must go beyond the notion of Good and Evil, because for all traditional peoples death is not considered as annihilation, but as the end of one state and rebirth in another. What matters to a traditional individual is to die in due time, for this moment is when the Celestial Effort of the Stream of Forms is felt. It is interesting to refer to a Taoist text where we perceive this aspect of things: "Teng-si knew how to discuss the pros and cons of a question, in an endless flow of words. Tzeu-tch'an having made a new code for the principality of Tcheng, many criticized it, and Teng-si turned it into derision. Tzeu-tch'an raged against his detractors, and had Teng-si put to death. In this he does not act, but serves fate. Teng-si was to die like this. Teng-si was to mock Tzeu-ch'an, and thus bring about his death. To be born and to die at one's time, these two things are happiness. Not being born, not dying on time, these two things are misfortunes. These various fates fall to one and the other, not by their doing, but by the fact of fatality. They are unpredictable. That is why, in speaking of it, we use the expressions, mystery without rule, way of heaven which alone knows itself, inscrutable darkness, law of heaven moving by itself, and other analogs. This means that heaven and earth, that the science of the Sages, that the ghosts and goblins, can do nothing against fatality. According to its whim, it annihilates or edifies, crushes or caresses, delays or prevents. » (Lie-Tzeu, Chap. 6-D, The Fathers of the Taoist System, Léon Wieger, Editions Belles Lettres.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

Like Seven Swords, Demolisher (Neptune) sparkling represents a person who ignores fear, enjoys combat and trials where he can measure his strength. But his primary motivation is to do good, to save the oppressed against the authority in place, to act in the interest of the humble. His disinterestedness leads to admiration. But this energy is at the service of an extraordinary tenacity, and the people who are animated by it, use all the weapons at their disposal to achieve their objective; violence, cruelty, ingratitude, cunning. This type of person, who likes flattery and always seeks dominance, aspires to only one thing; make the revolution. There are many resounding examples in Chinese history, where characters born under the star Demolisher (Neptune) overthrew Emperors and Sovereigns.

People under the astral signature Demolisher (Neptune) often have a dictator or authority behavior, the taste for travel and hunting are very anchored.

When the star Demolisher (Neptune) is luminous and especially for people born in a Dinh (Fire - Ying), Ky (Earth-Yin) or Quy (Water-Yin) year longevity and prosperity is good. But people born under a Binh (Fire-Yang) or Mau (Water-Yang) and Tiger or Monkey year, although prosperous, risk a violent death because of their reckless and risky undertakings.

When the star Demolisher (Neptune) is extinct cruelty, violence, stubbornness, and recklessness are extremely marked, which puts them at risk of all kinds. They are then able to become amoral and inhuman.

The best placement for Demolisher (Neptune) is when it is placed in the Personality Palace in the Horse or Rat space. The following images are commonly given respectively: "The typhoon in the sky" and "The ocean storms". People with one of these astral configurations have a considerable influence on those around them. It upsets and changes the order of things by bringing wind and storm. People with this astral mark are endowed with the most marked intelligence and subtlety of all Chinese astrology, and are not motivated by family life. He leaves without regret, Parents brothers and sisters to lead a life made of separation and solitude, which does not prevent him from knowing ease and honour.

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

Refer to what was said for the Palace Personality. This palace is the receptive principle function of the individual, that is to say, it characterizes the Celestial Will of the transforming activity of the individual. This activity is obviously Work, but also all the other activities not necessarily remunerative of the native. This plane is a receptive zone in the structure of the individual, because the Yin is receptive, but it is also the expenditure of energy accumulated in the Yang phase, which explains why it characterizes an effective activity that one can see as emitter in a certain respect. There is a kind of crossing of notions, which is perfectly in line with everything that stands between Heaven and Ground.

Exoteric Meanings of Sector:

This sector concerns the professional field in the broad sense. It describes the abilities of the person studied to obtain, keep or lose their job. It also describes which are the sectors of activity in which it will succeed best or which ones to avoid, and if it will succeed there or not.

Without major stars:

It is necessary to interpret by borrowing the stars of the palace Love. However, such a configuration is not a sign of good professional success.

Except:

. The Palace of Labor without major stars, with Sun and The Moon bright and placed at the trine and/or in opposition and Barré, indicates excellent professional success, especially in the field of politics and economics . The person is called to fulfill honorable functions with great responsibilities.

. The palace of Labor without major stars, with the same configuration as above, but not crossed out, has the same meanings as above, a little attenuated.

. The Palace of Labor without major stars, and crossed out means that the native encounters many failures and difficulties, but finally achieves professional success. However, it is short-lived.

If the Palace is Barred:

Is an indicator that working life is hectic and full of obstacles. But the configuration becomes favorable when the palace of Labor receives harmful stars.

With the group of 6 Violences shining (see the percentage of expression of the group):

. Associated with the following stars: King of the Stars (Jupiter), Heavenly Palace, Dance (Mercury), General Brilliant, or Motor of Heaven, The Moon, Servant (Uranus), Honest Shiny, or Sun and Giant Door Shiny then:

The native suffers throughout his professional life from dissatisfaction resulting from the mismatch between his work and his vocation and abilities. This frustration prevents him from progressing in his work, leading to hindrances and difficulties of all kinds. In addition, he risks being confronted with nuisances from his colleagues and subordinates.

. Associated with the following celestial bodies: King of the Stars (Jupiter), Heavenly Palace, Dance (Mercury), General off, or Motor of Heaven, The Moon, Servant (Uranus), Honest off, or Sun and Giant Door off then:

The native's professional life is particularly unstable and full of obstacles. Change, clash with competitors or adversaries, victims of formidable enemies.

. Associated with the brilliant martial group:

Professional life is brilliant. The native has great powers, but he must take on difficult, risky and sometimes dangerous affairs. Such situations are encountered in the profession of warriors, surgeons, certain sportsmen, industrialists and certain merchants of dangerous or military goods.

. Associated with the martial group off:

The native's professional life is not very brilliant, but his great professional conscience allows him to benefit from the esteem, popularity and recognition of his superiors.

With the group of 6 Violences extinguished (see the percentage of expression of the group):

. Associated with the following stars: King of the Stars (Jupiter), Heavenly Palace, Dance (Mercury), General Glossy, or Motor of Heaven, The Moon, Servant (Uranus), Honest Glossy, or Sun and Giant Door Brilliant then:

The native is destined to hold high office, and leads a brilliant professional life. However, due to the almost daily opposition of his subordinates, their disobedience and their almost pathological jealousy, he will fail to satisfy his ambitions, and will fall short of his professional goals.

. Associated with the following stars: King of the Stars (Jupiter), Heavenly Palace, Dance (Mercury), General extinct, or Motor of Heaven, The Moon, Servant (Uranus), Honest extinct, or Sun and Giant Door extinct then:

The native will certainly be attracted by political life, the administration or bureaucracy. But wisdom dictates that he stays away from this type of profession, because it will only bring him trouble and even danger.

. Associate Shining Martial Group:

The native leads a brilliant professional life, but he fails to exploit his full potential, and falls short of his objectives. He fails to find the necessary or appropriate collaborators.

. Associate extinct martial group:

The native is cut out for a profession where the danger and violence is his daily life.

ASPECTS OF SURROUNDINGS SECTOR

The Palace is not Barred

Description of the sector

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

This palace is the receptive principle function of the individual on the level of Intellectuality, that is to say that it characterizes the way in which intellectual relations will be expressed (to be distinguished from sentimental, which comes after – Social life-) of the native. It is obviously the palate that defines relations with colleagues during the exercise of professional activity, but more generally during all the native's external activities.

Exoteric Meanings of Sector:

This sector describes the relationships that the subject of the study maintains with all the people who are close to him except those of his family line. It concerns people with whom the subject has significant and intimate relationships.

However, this configuration indicates a certain inconstancy on the part of the entourage and that the collaborators and employees are not assiduous.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

To achieve the metaphysical realization of the being it is necessary to join together in more or less perfect proportions Wisdom, Force and Beauty. Virgin is the star of the Warrior group (the Temporal Power) which is the one which can unite these three attributes with the most perfection and lead to the integral accomplishment of the initiation. However, it may lack that patience (due to the nervousness of individuals marked by Virgin) which is necessary for perfect wisdom.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

The star Virgin is symbolically similar to Aphrodite (Saturn) with this ability to represent the opposite aspects of the same abstraction. The stars that accompany it determine the beneficial or harmful side that will be highlighted. Justice/Prison, Honor/Dishonor, Success/Misfortune, Legal Love/Prostitution, etc.

Reinforced by the Fire element which is its essence, the star Virgin gives people born under its reign a character of an extreme combativeness, but when the star is bright the person does it for the good of others. Wanting to overcome all the obstacles that stand before them and motivated, stimulated or even transcended by them, they engage in combat without any hesitation, taking these opponents head-on.

People born with Virgin in the Personality Palace are great with an elongated face, large, bright, slightly bulging eyes surmounted by thick eyebrows. These people take pleasure in a hectic and noisy social life.

The assistants are there to determine which side of the star will be highlighted: Right Supports and Left Helpers, Laureate and Medal/Conquest, Dissertation and Speech, Virgin and the sacred standards (Achievement, Fortune, Power), favor an important social rank and especially in all that relates to laws and justice. With Mars and Thunder are the assistants who reinforce it the most.

ASPECTS OF SOCIAL LIFE SECTOR

The Palace is not Barred

Description of the sector

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

Refer to what was said for the palace Individuality. This palace is the receptive principle function of the individual on the Affective level, that is to say that it characterizes the way in which the sentimental relations of the native will be expressed. It is obviously the palace that defines the relationships with the individuals close to the native during the exercise of the professional activity, but more generally during all the external activities of the native.

This sector describes how the subject reacts to society, what are these facilities or difficulties to integrate socially, how he feels the other, how he behaves in voluntary and humanitarian activities.

This sector gives information on non-professional trips and travels. > and that of Social Life. For example Metal for the Palace of Personality and Wood for Social Life indicate that the person imposes himself in his relationship with others. On the other hand, if the relationship is reversed, with Wood for the Palace of the Personality and Metal for the Social Life, then it is the others who impose themselves on the person.

There is also the case where the Personality and Social sectors are both Earth squares, so the report is neutral.

Without major stars:

Use the major stars of the Personality palace. If, moreover, it is barred then the person is in danger outside and risks dying outside their home.

If the Palace is Barred:

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

The Moon is the luminary that reflects sunlight, and symbolizes what the Far Eastern tradition calls Passive Perfection, pure Yin. The Moon is therefore the manifested object which in the cosmos is the emblem of the metaphysical principle Yin. Unmanifest Yin is the potentiality of transformation, the pure matter that awaits the pure action of Yang to shape matter. It is the feminine principle, which is the source of all beings, while the masculine principle is the cause of all beings. An individual marked by The Moon is therefore the expression of this passive perfection that hexagram n°2 Koun symbolizes. Jacques André Lavier translates the sentence of the Yi-King as follows: 'The earth is, by nature, receptive vis-à-vis the Yang. Under its influence, it conceives and gives birth to'

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

The Moon has as its main symbolism femininity and fertility in all its forms (animal, imaginative, creative). People under the sign of The Moon are beings of great sensitivity, perceiving the unfathomable. Romanesque, emotional, sentimental, in love with nature, with an overflowing and rich imagination, loving to dream sometimes to excess (which leads her to live in utopia, illusion and sometimes lies), a person with The Moon in the Palace Personality or maturity has everything from a great artist to a poet and writer. This type of personality often has a career as a psychologist, doctor, gynecologist, nurse and even magician.

The Moon also symbolizes heritage, wealth, real estate and land, which explains the importance of the aspect material things for people ruled by The Moon as well as the attachment to family and security.

The Moon still strongly symbolizes that which relates to femininity, grandmother, mother, wife, pregnancy, motherhood, marriage. But with less favorable astral configurations The Moon is a sign of haemorrhage, abortion, miscarriage, madness, instability, memory loss, excessive nervousness, a fondness for alcohol.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

Here is the ideogram Tchenn of the planet Saturn. She is called the planet "Stability"

Here is Hsuan the ideogram of the trigram associated with Saturn. At the top of the ideogram two Seals which designate authority. The Seal in the Ancient China was a piece of wood separated in two following a cut complex, each piece of which was handed over to the two parties involved. Wood is of course a symbol of purity and spirituality, which gives the Seal the Spiritual Authority of tradition. Resuming the reading of the ideogram Hsuan, sunder the Seals we see a stool to signify a place of Honor and Stability. Saturn is therefore par excellence the star of the Stability. But this ideogram means Elect, Choose, in a Sacred and thus represents the Chosen One. We can also see in the meeting of two Seals, the idea of the integral Union of the Being with the Principle, which his Initiatic course allowed him to effectively realize. In the Latin tradition

Saturn is the star that governs the Golden Age, that is to say the age when metaphysics is what regulates the life of men, and joins this that we have said about the particularly Sacred aspect symbolized by this Star. Another quality associated with Saturn is Perfection. In the ideogram Tchenn the right radical signifies Perfection, where the cross is the number 10 (but also being in its perfection of expansion of its possibilities of actions and transcendences), which indicates that ten eyes (center) looked good and saw no imperfections. Below is a pedestal to reinforce the idea of excellence. We understand well, armed with all these symbolic meanings, that Aphrodite (Saturn) is the Star who will sign an individual who can be called upon to carry out the entirety stages of an initiation to achieve Union with the Principle. It's necessary specify, in spite of everything, that what we have just said is verified only if the assistants and Left Helpers and Right Supports are converging.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

The two sides of the star Aphrodite (Saturn) are wealth and debauchery. Placed in the palace of Personality and shiny, it embodies fortune. If it is extinguished it leads to debauchery.

The assistants make it even more beneficial, each one communicating their own qualities to it: Right Supports and Left Helpers give it the talent, Laureate and Medal/Conquest personal value, Dissertation and Speech knowledge and culture, except in tiger and monkey palaces, sacred standards (Achievement, Fortune, Power) highest offices hierarchical. Mars and Thunder are the assistants who reinforce it the most.

On the other hand, with Lance or Armor generates violence and wickedness, Earth Nullity and/or Earth Spell is/are a sign of dishonesty, Dark Cloud attracts accusations and/or Punishment announces convictions (Dark Cloud and Punishment together are a sign of misfortune).

When the star Aphrodite (Saturn) is bright, the person born under his reign has trade in the soul and develops qualities of organizer. But inconstancy and his taste for distractions often prevent him from completing the ambitious projects he has undertaken.

This star is also a sign of luck in games of chance.

When the star Aphrodite (Saturn) is extinct, money is gained by luck on the fly.

The physical aspects that Aphrodite (Saturn) shiny gives to the person are a large size, a oval with beautiful and abundant hair. The dentition is regular, the skin is clear and very delicate. A mole is often found on the lower abdomen.

If Aphrodite (Saturn) is off, the voice is aggressive, the skin rough, the teeth are short and wide apart.

If Aphrodite (Saturn) is related to harmful stars it can be the sign that the native works as a butcher or in a slaughterhouse.

ASPECTS OF FINANCE SECTOR

The Palace is not Barred

Description of the sector

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

Refer to what was said for the Palace Personality. This palace is the principle emitting function of the individual, that is to say, it characterizes the Celestial Will of the individual's engendering activity. This activity never exceeds, in our modern world, financial enrichment, but it must be considered that an astral theme is the characterization of an individual in its traditional and metaphysical dimension, and it must be seen here that enrichment is that of the spiritual enrichment of the native. If there is one thing that is dearest to a traditional individual, it is to approach the Principle which in the Far East is called Tao in order to be able by ritual acts to Unite with him. This enrichment is (spiritual) nourishment which can be seen in a certain respect as a receiving aspect, but spiritual elevation is a transmitting exercise, because it requires the individual to identify with Knowledge, therefore to project outwards. There is a kind of crossing of notions, which is perfectly in line with everything that stands between Heaven and Ground.

Exoteric Meanings of Sector:

This sector provides information about the person's assets (those not described in the Possessions sector). It describes how he behaves in relation to money, how lucky he is at games, what his chances of fortune are, what his stock market and transferable values will be, how to manage his financial situation.

Without major stars:

Use the stars of the Palace Individuality.

Except for the cases listed below, when the Palace of Finance is without major stars, and even if the stars of the palace Ancestors are very favorable, it is to be feared that fortune is not favored.

Favorable cases: . If Palace Finance gets Bar/Cut or Bar/Void, then the youth is pretty poor. But then the money earned is more and more important.

. If Sun and The Moon are in trine and/or in opposition to the Palace Finances, and even more so if the latter is barred then finances are greatly favored.

If the Palace is Barred:

Means that everything throughout life, finances are quite chaotic. The person is always in aim to money problems. What she gains with one hand is taken from her with the other. There is no inheritance or it is very weak.

Giant Door

Vietnamese name: Cu Mon

Elément : Water

Positioning: Primaire

Quality : Yang

Nature: faste

Part(s) of the body : The mouth, Upper lip

Food : Mars, Letter and either Giant Gate or Dark Cloud or both = drugs , opium, hashish beef, steak

Shininess:

- Shining (): Cat, Rooster
- Bright (): Rat, Tiger, Horse
- Alight(*) : Monkey, Wild Board
- Lifeless (▼) : Ox, Dragon, Snake, Goat, Dog

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

The 'Door' is the symbol of passing from one state to another, from one domain to another. The Giant Gate is reminiscent of the Great Gate also called 'The Lesser Mysteries' in the Greek tradition, which symbolizes the accomplishment of the first phase of realization initiative of the individual.

This first phase is the Horizontal realization of being, that is to say the integral fulfillment of human possibilities in the field of manifestation (or form). This corresponds to the Royal (or warrior) initiation, which for some individuals is the prelude to the initiation into the Great Mysteries, that is to say the Sacerdotal initiation to achieve the Metaphysical realization of being.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

In the symbolism of Chinese astrology, Giant Door is most original and singular. This star is represented by a jewel which is prisoner of its gangue. Its external appearance is of little value, ordinary and uninteresting. But inside shines with a thousand sparkles a precious and magnificent emerald. It will take someone or a blunt object to break the ordinary stone that imprisons it and thus reveal the jewel.

The person with Giant Door in the Personality Palace according to the astral configurations will or will not be revealed. Thanks to the action of the stars capable of breaking the gangue (the bars, the standards Achievement, Fortune, Power, the erosions Small Erosion or Great Erosion, or even Lance or even Punishment) the person will present the same predispositions as General (which is also symbolized by an emerald, but which is not imprisoned) but which will generally develop from maturity. When the stone is broken, then power, strength and power are accessible with an additional interest in occultism.

But in the absence of the revealing stars, the person suffers from not being recognized at their fair value. She is aware of her abilities, her talents, but no one perceives them. So sourness, disappointment, bitterness develop in her. Tight on this feeling of failure, it 'crystallizes' on desires and projects which will not see the light of day.

Giant Door also reigns over the mouth in its broadest sense. When the star is bright, the person is then promised an oratorical gift and a superior force of persuasion. She is a quick-witted and penetrating diplomat, perceiving the world with great lucidity. She is also a sensual and romantic person, who has a singular force of attraction and when the star Giant Door is off, eloquence is no longer controlled. The person is by turns expository then mute, talkative then extinguished. She keeps her power of persuasion, but it is to lead others into a lie. Dialogue with others is always inconsistent and most often leads to misunderstandings and misunderstandings. It is the negative side of the word that is revealed. The clumsy, acerbic remarks, full of gossip and slander. They do not express the real thought of the person who is not understood. Listening is also disturbed, because most often the person interprets the words of others by distorting them. The person struggles with jealousy and seeks quarrels, losing control and lucidity.

With Giant Door in the Personality Palace, the person is of average height at best and a definite build. His back is wide with large buttocks. She also has large eyes and purplish lips.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

Before arriving on the effective path of the Tao (the Initiatory Way), the traditional individual must develop qualities of rectitude and virtue, which will be tested through social relations. It is the Social way, or more exactly the exoteric form of the Far Eastern tradition which is better known in the West under the name of Confucianism. Servant (Uranus) as Honest are the perfect emblems of the social way, where the individual through his generosity, his altruism and his qualities of rectitude, will perhaps achieve the qualification to take the effective Way of the Tao.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

Servant (Uranus) but also Honest develops the same faculties of imagination as The Moon. But it is mainly in the taste to serve and by these human qualities and his generosity, his altruism and his kindness that Servant (Uranus) and Honest stand out. The other strong symbolism held by Servant (Uranus) and Honest is luck. Luck always goes hand in hand with longevity and security. It is for this reason that the favorite palace of the Stars Servant (Uranus) and Honest is that of Individuality, which is the one through which all the mortal and immortal compounds of a being are held together in manifestation. . We understand in this way that luck, longevity and security are attributes that can only be related to this modality of being that we call in the West Soul, Orenda among the Amerindians and which is called in the Far East Tch'i.

With Servant (Uranus) and Honest extinguished, the person finds it difficult to fix themselves, to keep their perseverance, to make decisions, to keep their patience. She likes to wander, frolic, have fun, spend, travel and does not think about work, that is to say, the individual fails to maintain cohesion.

People under the sign of Servant (Uranus) are tall and rather thin with nicely rosy skin. Their charm is undeniable.

Aspects of Finance Sector

Meanings given by the primary stars:

Giant Door, Servant (Uranus) :

It is by moving away from his hometown or going abroad that the native will avoid having a financial life made up and down conflicts and disputes. He can then become well off. Dark Cloud

This star is the sign that the native is probably egotistical miser, that he fears running out of money, he experiences financial troubles and conflicts because of money.

Lance

Brilliant: The native suddenly becomes wealthy in troubled times. is also experiencing financial troubles.

ASPECTS OF PROGENY SECTOR

The Palace is not Barred

Description of the sector

Metaphysical Meanings of the Sector:

Refer to what was said for the palace Parents. This palace is the principal emitting function of the individual on the level of Intellectuality, that is to say, it characterizes the way in which the intellect will Generate something towards manifestation. This begetting corresponds to the intellectual essence that the native can transmit to the outside, and this transmission on the part of the Spiritual Influences, is addressed to the external individuals whom the native adopts as destined to receive this seed. Generally it is his offspring, but on a metaphysical level it can be any other individual. The blood connection here does not count for any part.

Exoteric Meanings of Sector:

This sector gives information on the descendants of the person studied. Number of children, his relations that one is likely or that one would do better to have with these, but also with his grandchildren, great-grandchildren, etc., adopted children, beautiful -children.

Without major stars:

To interpret this scenario, use the major stars of the Possession palace.

If the Palace is Crossed:

If the Palace Offspring is crossed, it means that the first child is difficult to raise. This configuration also indicates that there is no agreement between parents and children, leading them to live on their own as soon as conditions permit.
. When this palace is crossed out, the estimated number of children must be halved.

With southern stars (Heavenly Palace, General, Sun, Seven Swords, Motor of Heaven, Honest and Servant (Uranus)):

There will probably be more boys than girls.

With northern stars (The Moon, Aphrodite (Saturn), Virgin, Demolisher (Neptune), Dance (Mercury), Giant Door):

There will probably be more girls than boys.

With the palace Offspring in Yang space, with a South Star and a North Star or with King of the Stars (Jupiter):

There will probably be more boys than girls.

Invert the prognosis in Yin space .

With the palace Offspring in the Yang space:

The first child will probably be a healthy boy.

With the palace Offspring in the Yin space:

The first child will probably be a healthy girl.

For these last two cases, if the prognosis is not verified, the child will be difficult to raise due to fragile health.

With the palace Offspring in the Yang space with the following combinations Motor of Heaven, The Moon, Servant (Uranus) and Honest or The Moon and Heavenly Bliss (Protection) or Motor of Heaven and Giant Door or General and Initial Breath (Disappearance) or Ambusher and Officer or Foetus and Initial Breath (Disappearance):

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

General unites in it the Force and the Beauty which are the attributes of an initiate having carried out the first stage of his initiatory course, that is to say the Perfection of the possibilities of man in the manifestation. The individuals being marked by this star, being despite everything in the group of Spiritual Authority, are closer to the domains of manifestation (that is to say, centered on contingent concerns), than to the domains of metaphysics (that is to say, what is of the order of the spiritual). However, it can be said that having achieved their perfection of Strength and Beauty, they are now virtually fully in the Spiritual realm.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

This star which is the image of an emerald which is a doubly precious stone in Chinese symbolism. Dignity, luxury, power, strength, luck, authority and fortune are the qualities associated with it.

People with this astral signature have a generous and frank character. For them, justice and appearance are a constant concern, and their magnetism, which is revealed very early in life, is flagrant. Feasting, receiving, is a pleasure, because General is also represented by meat and wine.

When the star General is in the destiny, Aphrodite (Saturn) is in that of the spouse.

This is the star of sexuality and lust and it needs support from stars bringing seriousness and stability (Laureate, Medal/Conquest, Left Helpers, Right Supports, Flying Dragon , Phoenix (immortal bird), etc.) so that the marriage is preserved and that the agreement between the spouses is possible. Indeed Aphrodite (Saturn) badly supported will indicate that the spouse will tend to marry from time to time towards other loves so that the native under the sign of General that is to say possessive and jealous will not support a such attitude. Divorce risks concluding a stormy affair.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

The ideogram Ch'enn designates the planet Mercury. This ideogram is translated as Modesty. It shows a woman leaning forward to hide her lower body. We can see the drawing of the foot which, on the one hand, is under the horizontal line to mark the middle of the body, and on the other hand is also hidden under the curve (bottom right) which represents the woman's apron. Mercury indeed is a planet that remains very inconspicuous due to its interior position (between the Sun and the Earth), which makes it observable only at dusk and dawn, at certain times of the year. Dance (Mercury) is therefore a star symbolizing what is hidden, hidden like Universal Knowledge because it is inexpressible (not to be confused with inaccessible). That this star is associated with dance is a reminder that one can only access knowledge through ritual action, which in certain initiatory ways takes the form of dance. This discipline is the means of carrying out acts in conformity with the Cosmic Work, which, under the Spiritual Influences of its Master, makes it possible to carry out metaphysical transformations of the being which will give him access to the Universal Knowledge. However, Dance (Mercury) is rather related to the Initiatory Paths of realization of the perfection of the individual (generally the Warrior Paths).

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

This star is a sign of fortune and sometimes loneliness. People with Dance (Mercury) in the Palace Personality or maturity are gifted in the disciplines of art, literature, architecture, mechanics, gastronomy, sewing and esotericism. In periods and especially for people born in a Metal or Water year, Dance (Mercury) is extremely favorable for the material situation.

Aspects of Progeny Sector

Meanings given by the primary stars:

The native probably won't have children. Maybe just one, if not adopted children.

General

When General occupies the palace Offspring, the children have excellent health and are robust.

Medal/Conquest

This combination is extremely beneficial, but less than if Laureate and Medal/Conquest were combined. It protects against the bad influences of the malefic stars. There is a very good chance that there is a gifted among the children.

Left Helpers

This star alone has meanings less likely than if Left Helpers and Right Supports were combined. Add 3 children to the first estimate. There is a very good chance that there is a gifted child among the children.

Power

Configuration less strong than if Achievement, Power, Fortune were united. This configuration is the sign that children are intelligent, rich and honorable. It brings protection, wealth, happiness and delivers from the influences of the bad stars.

Door of Mourning (Pluto)

The children are in fragile health and have a sad character.

This palace is the individual's principle emitting function on the Affective level, that is to say, it characterizes the way in which the native will give his affect to others. This Star is the reflection of the Principle in manifestation. Symbol of Knowledge, he is the one who illuminates the darkness. Sun is also considered as the image of the Center of the Cosmic Wheel, the point on which the initiate is actually placed when he realizes the first phase of his journey towards the Tao. It is not the Tao itself, it is only its reflection in the world of forms. It is the manifested Yang, principle of generation par excellence, of non-active activity which will give life to the gross form. It is the reflection of pure intellect in man, of supra-consciousness, that extension of modality which makes man distinct from other manifested beings.

It is the door by which the initiate will leave the manifestation to rise towards the domains of non-being then of the Supreme Principle.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

When the star Sun is in the Personality Palace (extinguished or brilliant) of a person, this person is endowed with great qualities of character, altruism, sincerity, fidelity, probity, lacking neither tone nor energy. , or firmness.

On the other hand, when the star Sun is extinguished the person, while retaining his qualities of character, lacks constancy. This lack of perseverance, courage and stubbornness often leads to not finalizing the projects undertaken. Reinforced by an attitude relatively tense on established principles, these dispositions most often lead the person to a relative pessimism.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

Before reaching the effective path of the Tao (the Initiatory Way) , the traditional individual must develop qualities of rectitude and virtue, which will be tested through social relations. It is the Social way, or more exactly the exoteric form of the Far Eastern tradition which is better known in the West under the name of Confucianism. Honest as Servant (Uranus) are the perfect emblems of the social way, where the individual through his generosity, his altruism and his qualities of rectitude, will perhaps achieve the qualification to take the effective Way of the Tao.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

Honest but also Servant (Uranus) develops the same faculties of imagination as The Moon. But it is mainly in the taste to serve and by these human qualities and his generosity, his altruism and his kindness that Honest and Servant (Uranus) stand out. The other strong symbolism held by Honest and Servant (Uranus) is luck. Luck always goes hand in hand with longevity and security. It is for this reason that the favorite palace of the Stars Honest and Servant (Uranus) is that of Individuality, which is the one through which all the mortal and immortal compounds of a being are held together in manifestation. . We understand in this way that luck, longevity and security are attributes that can only be related to this modality of being that we call in the West Soul, Orenda among the Amerindians and which is called in the Far East Tch'i.

With Honest and Servant (Uranus) extinguished, the person finds it difficult to settle down, to maintain their perseverance, to make decisions, to keep their patience. She likes to wander, frolic, have fun, spend, travel and does not think about work, that is to say, the individual fails to maintain cohesion.

People under the sign of Honest are tall and rather thin with nicely rosy skin. Their charm is undeniable.

Honest means the native's wife is very beautiful or the native's husband is very elegant.

The marriage is a success. The spouses live happily and are well off. The woman is taller and stronger than her husband. They are of the same generative line or have the same ancestry. Speech

The bride and groom live in harmony.

If the native is a man, his wife is very beautiful and very cultured. The native probably has several mistresses and lives many love affairs.

Fortune

The bride and groom are happy and live in happiness. The spouse is rich.

See what was said for the palace Possession. This palace is the principle emitting function of the individual on the physical level, that is to say that it characterizes what are the faculties of physical expression of the native on his environment. These faculties are developed during childhood through physical relationships with collaterals, and these first confrontations are the image of what they will be over the complete cycle of life.

Exoteric Meanings of Sector:

This sector speaks of brothers and sisters, brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law only. It allows to know what will be the number of brothers and sisters, and what will be the relationship with them, what will be their social positions, and what will be the influences they will have on the person studied.

b>Without major stars:
Use the major stars of the palace Entourage to interpret this palace.

Strikeout or with Decline (Decadence):

 - . The brother or elder sister has left the hometown and lives as a nomad or in poverty.
- With the palace Collaterals barred it is likely that the siblings do not get along.

With southern stars (Heavenly Palace, General, Sun, Seven Swords, Motor of Heaven, Honest and Servant (Uranus)):

There will probably be more brothers than sisters.

With Northern stars (The Moon, Aphrodite (Saturn), Virgin, Demolisher (Neptune), Dance (Mercury), Giant Door):There will probably be more sisters than brothers.

Metaphysical Aspects of the Star:

Here c It is the symbolic number 7 which is of primary importance. 7 like the 7 stars of Teou (the bushel constellation, which in the Far Eastern tradition is the figuration of the Imperial chariot (symbol of the manifested world) which revolves around the motionless hub T'ai Yi (the Supreme Peak) the North Star which in the time of Houang Ti was Thuban and which today is Polaris. The Imperial tank which in its perpetual course, symbolizes time, by the circle it describes also represents space. East-West, South-North, Zanith-Nadir and the axis of the mode which is the Center of all its orients and constitutes by itself the passage towards the unmanifested.

Now that the number 7 is associated with the sword, symbolic weapon par excellence, reinforces the cosmic character of the star Seven Swords, that is to say its attachment to realm of the manifest. Indeed the weapons are generally symbols of the solar rays, of the axis of the world, and of the Spiritual Influences which manifest themselves in the world. In the Far Eastern tradition, the Wou ideogram which designates the Yang time of the central element Earth is a weapon (a halberd) accompanied by two plants to fully symbolize the anabolic and catabolic aspect (life and death) that it contains in germ (not yet manifested). These two forces inherent in our world are therefore represented by the two edges of the sword.

But we can go even further. As we have just said, the two cutting edges are the figuration of Yang and Yin, and are therefore the emblems of the expansion of the possibilities of being in the manifested world. But the sword is also by its straightness the symbol of the axis of the world around which the world turns and on which the individual in search of wisdom must place himself before rising towards the field of the metaphysical realization of the being (possibility of transcendence). Thus the sword is endowed with life and death, with death to restore the imbalances of the world, with life because to cause death in one state is to give birth to another.

Exoteric Aspects of the Star:

A person with Seven Swords in the Personality Palace, presents a nervous and obstinate character and seems to be always on hot coals. Full of ambition, his relations with others are always based on a balance of power and he inevitably seeks to dominate. This does not deprive him of esteem and respect from others. His violence and recklessness most of the time prohibit him from happy situations, making his destiny quite chaotic. But fortune and longevity are generally accessible to him.

When Seven Swords is sparkling (the Chinese give the image of a divine being descended from the sky), people have a sense of leadership, organization and are not lacking in values. This is even truer when the person is born in a GIAP (Yang Wood), Canh (Metal-Yang), Dhin (Fire-Yin) or Ky (Earth-Yin) year. An unshakable will, a conquering and materialistic spirit, an endless greed are their main character traits. On the sentimental level, this fighting spirit is always appropriate. Seducers, devoid of any spirit of fidelity, they fully consume their amorous impulses. Suffice to say that married life is greatly disrupted. When Seven Swords is in fate, the Love Palace receives General. This astral signature means that the couple then lives with many scenes and under the yoke of jealousy. In fact, the ideal would be to live polygamy.

When Seven Swords is extinct the need to exteriorize the violence is felt, and most often the person chooses a profession related to this drive. On the other hand, the person seems to have to choose between comfort and longevity. If they are rich they die young, if they live old they live without fortunes.

When Seven Swords is crossed out (Void Bar or Cut Bar) the image given is "the sacred sword broken" the person is then pessimistic, often poor, unhappy and shows off and dishonesty are never far away.
